👩‍⚕️ WHEN ACNE TURNS INTO A GIANT KELOID ON THE NECK (ACNE KELOIDALIS NUCHAE)

A DERM DIARIES DERMATOLOGY CASE

A Male in his early 30s came to our clinic with progressive thickening and scarring at the back of the neck. This is a condition called Acne keloidalis nuchae (AKN). A chronic inflammatory condition that primarily affects the posterior scalp and nape of the neck, most commonly in men. Despite its name, it is not classic acne.

Over time, repeated inflammation leads to firm papules, nodules, and thick keloid-like plaques, which can merge into large disfiguring scars and cause permanent hair loss in the affected area.

👩‍⚕️ KEY TAKEAWAY

Skin conditions can be a sign of underlying health issues. Consulting a dermatologist is key for proper treatment and evaluation.
